Union calls on city school board for organized group recognition

By EDGAR PEREZ
The president of a local teachers union this week has formally requested the Bay-Waveland Municipal Separate School District board of trustees to reconsider its policy of non-recognition of organized groups.
Andrews M. Wilkinson, in a letter addressed to Mrs. Joseph Gex, board president, warns the board's current policy "...may do irreparable harm to the professional relationship between the teachers and the school board."
Wilkinson, a Bay Junior High teacher and president of Bay St. Louis Federation of Teachers Local No. 3697, said while board policy "...invites comments and recommendations from teachers speaking as individuals...this provision overlooks the very natural and almost universal reluctance on the part of individual teachers to appear before the school board."

The union leader cited several reasons why teachers would be reluctant to appear before the board:
-"A teacher may simply be too embarrassed or too timid."
-"He may believe his individual comment or suggestion too insignificant to warrant serious consideration by the board."
-"He may not wish to be revealed as the author of an idea, fearing that his motives might be misinterpreted."
-"He may fear retaliation if identified as the originator of a critical comment."
"It is begging the question to say that teachers should not feel this way. The fact is, rightly or wrongly, they do," Wilkinson said in his letter, copies of which have been sent to the superintendent of schools and the other four members of the board of trustees.
"In this connection...one of the primary purposes of a professional organization is to screen ideas of individual members by thoroughly dissecting these ideas and adding and subtracting such thoughts as the group wisdom dictates," Wilkinson continues.

"Your policy prohibiting the

Shoplifters to face January grand jury

The City of Bay St. Louis lost its case in City Court Wednesday night against two alleged shoplifters, and local merchants came away from the courtroom stunned—feeling that justice had turned her back on them.

Thursday night, in the neighboring jurisdiction of Waveland, the same two defendants were bound over to the grand jury on similar charges and their bond hiked from $500 to $1,500.

By Friday morning, the feelings of Bay St. Louis chain store managers had become somewhat bitter, with expressions of resentment being expressed over the Wednesday ruling by City Judge Joseph Benvenuti. Benvenuti cited "insufficient evidence" as the cause for the dismissal ruling.

The Bay St. Louis judge stood firm on his ruling on Friday in spite of the merchants' consensus he was "too easy" on shoplifters.
"The merchants' suspicions are very strong in this case, but if convictions were based on suspicions, there would be more people in jail than out," the judge said.

Essential difference in the cases against the two Gulfport women is that in charges presented before City Judge Lucien Gex of Waveland, store employees stated they were eye witnesses to the alleged offenses.

In Bay St. Louis, however, the defendants were charged with shoplifting after a 100-mile-an-hour chase along US-90 from Waveland to Bay St. Louis.

When stopped by officers in Bay St. Louis, the women were found to be in possession of merchandise presumed to be stolen from four stores in the city and from a fifth in Waveland. But such a presumption cannot be made, according to Judge Benvenuti. "Store managers could not prove this

Circuit Court rules on criminal, civil cases

The regular term of circuit court started Monday in Hancock County, Judge J. Ruble Griffin presiding.

By cause number, cases and their disposition for week were:
4851 - State vs. Kenneth Banks; motion to set aside conviction of Bay St. Louis City Court. Dismissed with a writ of procedendo (revert to city court) with City Court Judge Joseph Benvenuti being instructed to proceed in enforcement. (Previous fine in case of $250 had been paid, no appeal bond was posted).
6778 - Woody Pringle, dba Pringle's Fernwood Shell Station, vs. Sam Blanchard, dba Blanchard Tile and Plastering; case found in favor of plaintiff (Fernwood), for recovery of $993.46 plus eight percent interest on unpaid amount of principal.

6947 - Gulf National Bank vs. Mrs. Lucette M. Worrell; postponed for 30 days.

Sports fishing restrictions, seasons, loom in future

Recreational and sport fishermen on the Gulf Coast may face stricter regulations favoring the commercial fishing industry, according to the director of the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission.

The MMCC director, Dr. Richard L. Leard, said an indicated future curbing of both recreational and commercial fishing in the state's coastal waters will most likely result in priorities being made "in favor of the persons who have to make a living by fishing."

"The recreational person will also have a share of the fishing, but it will be a lesser share," Leard told participants in a Long Beach seminar last week conducted by Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.

Leard said increased demands on Gulf Coast fishing resources have resulted in additional needs for fishing regulations and management plans. Citing the half-mile limit on shrimp along the Mississippi coast, Leard said "there's probably going to be more of these (restrictions) in the future."

Current law prohibits shrimpers from trawling within a half-mile of the

Day Care Center for the Elderly

By EVE McDONALD
Mississippi was first in this area to provide this helpful service to the elderly - and Hancock County was chosen as the site. In services for the elderly, we have truly been a pioneer in the South. Thanks to the United Way - it's working!

The Day Care Center provides fine five day a week care for those elderly (60 plus) who are isolated, confused, or in need of the service so as to enable their children to work. They are persons with pride, persons who jealously guard their independence and and, with a little help, can remain out of a nursing home, or in their own homes. They are generally persons with limited income and resources who pay for their lunches as they are able, and return to the community services as they are able. They are persons who have served others in their family and the community in their younger years and now need a little help so they can continue to function in independent manner.

You can see persons from the Day Care Program at the nursing home on Wednesday afternoon singing and visiting the patients there and trying to help those less independent than themselves. You can also see them in

EASTERLY 38 YACHT returns home this week from display in Annapolis, Md., boat show. The craft is production mainstay at Easterly Yachts, Inc., operating in former Coastal Millwork (ex-DDI) Building at Port Bienville Industrial Park. Easterly, a division of Halter Marine of New Orleans, builds both pleasure and commercial vessels. (Staff photo-Edgar Perez)

The craft was recently completed at Port Bienville and launched for sea trials at Gulfport.

The vessel, fiberglass mainstay of Easterly's operation here, is recognized by sailing enthusiasts as one of the finest cruising sailboats made in the United States and perhaps the best dollar-for-dollar value in its class, the company reported.

Easterly Yachts at Port Bienville is a subsidiary of Halter Marine Services of New Orleans, La.

Mike Brennan, company general manager, got his start in yacht building in 1965 in his backyard where he built a 29-foot sailing vessel based on his father's "Eastwind," a Gulf One class boat which he helped build as a youngster.

After a few seasons of successful racing, Brennan founded Easterly Yachts as a division of Scheyd-Brennan Co., Inc., general contractors. The plant was located at 1729 Lake Ave. in Metairie, La., and the first production boats were 30-footers.

The line was expanded in 1972 with the completion of the first "Easterly 36." In 1975, the mold was modified to the present 38-foot configuration. Later that year, Mike Brennan became sole owner of Easterly Yachts and moved the operation to 621 East Rutland Street, Covington, La.

With the acquisition of Easterly Yachts in January, 1977, Halter Marine entered the retail consumer market for the first time.

In addition to the luxurious sailing craft which—with extras included—will sell for about $50,000, Easterly also is

Miss Mary Grace Boos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard J. Boos, Sr. of Clermont Harbor became the bride of Frank B. Klein, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Klein, Jr. also of Clermont Harbor in an evening ceremony on Oct. 8.

St. Ann's Catholic Church formed the setting for the double ring nuptial event, with Rev. Canisius Hayes officiating. Mrs. John McKenna rendered musical selections. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of candlelight chiffon accented with matching embroidered lace. A wreath of baby's breath, lily of the valley and ivory roses adorned her hair. She carried a bouquet of ivory orchids and bud roses fashioned from wood fibers, against a background of lily of the valley and baby's breath.

Mrs. Yvonne Garcia, Clermont Harbor, attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a formal length blue quiana knit gown and carried a nosegay of white roses and blue carnations designed from wood fibers.

Phillip Garcia, cousin of the groom was best man.

Following a 15 day tour of the Hawaiian Islands, the couple will reside in their newly built home on Lower Bay Road in Clermont Harbor.

Out of town guests included Mike Roth, Houston, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. Gerard J. Boos, Jr., Grovehill, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Miller, Mandeville, La.

MR. AND MRS. LIGHTSEY

Mr. and Mrs. Malcomb Lightsey wed at double ring ceremony

Miss Joy Ann Harvill of Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Harvill Sr., of Waveland, became the bride of Malcomb B. Lightsey of Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bufkin Lightsey, Batesville, Sunday afternoon, Oct. 2, in Wells Methodist Church, Jackson.

The Rev. Keith Tonkel performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length cotton voile gown with embroidery lace trim at the neck and hemline. She wore a floral head piece and carried a heart shaped bouquet of cream and yellow sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Sally Campbell of Houston, Tex., attended the bride as maid of honor and Dorothy Brown, Jackson, was bridesmaid. Bruce Lightsey and Lewis Lightsey, sons of the groom of Jackson, served as best man and groomsmen.

The bridesmaids wore floor length peach nylon dresses fashioned with an overlay of embroidery on the skirts and around the necklines. They carried a long stem rose with greenery and peach ribbon streamers.

The mother of the bride wore a white dress with a white and blue jacket and navy accessories when she received guests at the reception held at The Grove Clubhouse.

The bride's table, overlaid with a white lace cloth, was centered with silver branched candelabra with an arrangement of white mums and peach roses.

Assisting at the reception were Pam Hyatt, Jackson, April Bernard, Long Beach, Susan Clark, Jackson, Sherie

Head, Pascagoula, Roberta Harvill and Melissa Harvill, Port Sulphur, La.

Following the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to New Orleans. They will reside in Jackson.

CLINTON HOMECOMING
Mississippi College alumni from the Bay St. Louis area are invited back to the college campus on Saturday, Nov. 5.

By Max Berns

The Hancock County Historical Society held its regular monthly meeting Monday, Oct. 10 at the Gulf National Bank in Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Jeanne Williams gave a charming account of the life and people of Gainesville during that town's flourishing as a major cotton export outlet. Members were told of the town's rich history and its relationship to today's Hancock County and to New Orleans.

The Hancock County Historical Society is working on a project to record the history of Gainesville with a view toward preserving it and recording it for recognition by the Federal Government at the NSTL site in Hancock County. The society's president, Captain Max Berns, stated that the society visualizes sponsoring an appropriate ceremony in the future commemorating this historical town, which now is part of the NASA buffer zone under lease "into perpetuity."

Another significant long range project was discussed at the meeting. Richmond Barthe, world renowned sculptor and native of Bay St. Louis, has offered to sculpt a statue of St. Louis (King Louis IX of France), after whom the city is named. Barthe has offered to donate his time and work toward this project. The statue would be located at a site in Bay St. Louis overlooking St. Louis Bay.

Leo Seal has accepted chairmanship of a committee to respond to this offer by Mr. Barthe. Hancock Historical Society members will assist him in working out details which will involve cooperation with many organizations and agencies.

The Hancock County Historical Society is conducting a membership drive for the next fiscal year (Oct. 1977-Sept. 1978). The cost of membership is $6.

The society's purpose is "to locate, research history, develop and record information, preserve and display and to document and place historical markers, for the preservation and improving...historic sites and buildings and history of Hancock County." Membership is unlimited and available to persons interested in working toward this purpose.

Inquiries may be submitted to the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, telephone 467-9048.

FOLK BALLET SCHEDULED

The highly acclaimed Czechoslovakian Folk Ballet, "Lupinka" will appear at Ole Miss Oct. 23 in the third of 10 University Artist Series programs this year. The colorfully costumed company has won several top prizes, including the Gold Medal at the Brussels World's Fair Expo.

The Pre-Arranging and Pre-Financing of Funerals

Talking about death is often difficult. Yet a death in the family may create problems for survivors which can sometimes be alleviated by discussion and pre-planning. Funeral and burial arrangements are an important consideration and should be discussed openly and frankly. Pre-arranging and sometimes pre-financing a funeral is a method some people choose to assist their survivors after death occurs.

In many things which are pre-planned, there can be unforeseen developments between the time of planning and of putting the plans into effect. This is especially true in the pre-arranging of funerals, since there is no way of knowing beforehand exactly when, where, how and under what circumstances death will come. And these unknown factors could alter original plans substantially.

Careful counseling with an experienced funeral director can avoid unwise planning or even fraudulent schemes involving particularly the financing of funerals in advance of death.

None too soon

It is now evident more than ever for the need of a city investigator for Bay St. Louis.

Our understanding is that Bay St. Louis is in the process of securing LEA funds for the purpose and, if this is true, they cannot get one soon enough.

With crime on the increase, especially shoplifting, our merchants need help along the lines of just what they have to do in order to help our police get a conviction.

It would take time, to visit each store manager, but it sure would be a help to everyone in our community, if we got the reputation as being tough on shoplifters. Our police department does a very fine job, but they just need more help and an investigator could be the answer.

Waveland has an investigator, there isn't any reason why Bay St. Louis shouldn't have one.

Another big help to our cities would be a municipal prosecutor. This person with the help of an investigator could present a case before city judges in a professional way that would put the alleged criminals on the offensive rather than the merchants. It is hard now days to get a conviction, alleged criminals are getting smarter, and the laws seem to be designed in their favor.

We all must remember one thing, we all pay for shoplifters.

HEALTH TIPS

POISONS

"Sure, I told him it was candy," sobbed the woman. "That was the only way I could get him to take it."

This scene is repeated hundreds of times each year in hospital emergency departments and poison control centers. Many parents, in an exasperated attempt to get their young children to take medication, may tell them it is candy. Children rarely forget, and later, accidentally poison themselves by ingesting the entire bottle of "candy."

During 1953, there were over 300,000 accidental poisonings of children ages one through five and over 300 deaths. This situation attracted the attention of pediatricians and other health professionals, who began to gather information in an attempt to alleviate the problem. Their efforts culminated in the establishment of the first Poison Control Center of Chicago in 1953, with a purpose of providing health professionals with poison information.

By 1962 the death rate due to accidental poisonings had risen to 400. Alarmed by the increase, health professionals began pushing in then-President John F. Kennedy's proclaiming the third full week in March as National Poison Prevention Week.

Today, there are 500 poison prevention centers in the nation, with the purpose of providing prevention information and treatment in cases of accidental poisoning cases. Public education now plays a vital role in the activities of most centers.

Some 45 percent of all accidental poisonings are caused by medication. Nearly 15 percent are due to swallowing household products such as bleach, or furniture polish, with the remaining 40 percent including such items as cosmetics, plants, paints, pesticides and hydrocarbons, such as gasoline, lighter fluid, oil and kerosene.

Drain cleaners are also a big problem. A real tragedy is a child with an esophagus burned by swallowing drain cleaner. Those that live through the burn experience may be destined to a life of misery. They may require extensive surgery and may never be able to eat solid foods of any kind.

While drain cleaners are among those products which cause the most damage to the child, aspirin continues to be responsible for more childhood accidental poisonings than any other substance.

During the 1960's aspirin was responsible for 25 percent of all accidental poisonings of children ages one through five. About 90 percent of those were specifically due to baby aspirin. Today, this percentage has dropped to 6.8 percent primarily because of the growing public awareness of the dangers of aspirin. Poison control centers played a key role in reducing this percentage through active public education campaigns. They have helped toward the decline in deaths and serious injury as a result of accidental poisoning.

Other factors which have contributed to the decline include the Labeling Act of 1969 requiring manufacturers to list a product's ingredients on the label which helps to more quickly identify potential toxic ingredients in a product. Federal legislation allowing syrup of Ipecac, an agent which induces vomiting, to be sold without a prescription also has been extremely helpful.

The most recent contribution has been the safety enclosures requirement for most medications.

Every adult who is responsible for small children is urged to recognize hazards of accidental poisoning and to take positive steps toward prevention of an often deadly situation.

In case of poisoning:
Call your doctor, hospital or Poison Control Center PROMPTLY.
Dilute the poison whenever possible.
Give glass of water.

Make patient vomit giving one tablespoonful of Syrup of Ipecac and a cup of water.

BUT NOT IF:

Patient is unconscious or having fits.
Swallowed poison with a strong corrosive.

Swallowed poison contained kerosene, gasoline or other petroleum products.

If patient does not vomit, do not waste time waiting. Transport patient, if indicated, to a medical facility.

BRING PACKAGE OR CONTAINER WITH LABEL INTACT

Protect your family against poisoning:

Lock up all dangerous substances. Be sure all poisons are clearly marked.

Date all drug supplies. Protect your skin and eyes when using insecticides, solvents cleaning agents and wash thoroughly after use of such things.

Do not store poisonous or inflammable substances in food or beverage containers.

Do not take or give medicine in the dark.

Do not take or give medicine from an unlabeled bottle.

When you throw away drugs or hazardous materials, be sure the contents cannot be reached by children or pets.

NEVER TELL A CHILD THAT MEDICINE IS CANDY

B-W school system approves long range building plans

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District has set priorities on a proposed, long-range building program totaling more than $1.5 million.

At the top of the list, presented to the board at its Monday meeting by Superintendent J. D. McCullough, is a new $214,000 cafeteria at the Bay St. Louis Junior High School.

Lunch room facilities now in use at the school were threatened with closure at the beginning of the current school year by the Hancock County Board of Health because of deficiencies.

McCullough said the cafeteria received top priority in order to keep the lunch room open until it can be replaced.

Other items on the proposal, in order of priority, are:

-Renovation of lunch room at North Bay Elementary School, $18,000.

-Two additional classrooms at the Junior High, $17,000.

-Replacement of five trailers at North Bay Elementary School with six additional classrooms, $250,000.

-Six additional classrooms at Waveland Elementary School, $250,000.

-Senior High School auditorium, $900,000.

McCullough said the cost estimates placed on the projects were received from Fred Wagner, school board architect.

The superintendent emphasized the order of priorities could be changed by the board in the future if necessary, but board approval of the program was necessary this week in order to proceed with grant applications for state funds.

Educational Finance Commission funds allowed at the rate of $12 per square foot will bring some $84,000 in state monies to help pay for the 7,000-square foot cafeteria at the Junior High, McCullough reported.

The Junior High cafeteria, North Bay lunch room and Junior High classrooms will require a total of $150,000 in local funds, McCullough said.

The figure includes some $7,600 in "other costs" McCullough said is added to cover inflationary trends since actual construction may not begin for two to three months.

In seeking approval of the long-range plan Monday night, McCullough said, presentation of an organization's comments and recommendations deprives you of the collective wisdom of those professionals charged with implementing your policy in the classroom," the union leader stated.

Concerning teacher communication with the board through the superintendent, Wilkinson feels that "...as hard as he (the superintendent) might try, it is considered unlikely that he could fairly present our position."

Wilkinson noted "...there have been recent instances of direct, private communications between individual teachers and individual board members concerning school policies and teacher benefits."

"We feel that your policy will encourage a proliferation of these private contacts," Wilkinson said.

"After all, that is now the most likely way for you to obtain teacher input into your deliberations," he noted.

"In our opinion, that method is fraught with the dangers of misin-formation, personal bias and invalid conclusions," he concluded.

Wilkinson said his letter "does not presume to speak for the Bay St. Louis Education Association."

"We do know, however, that several of their individual members and several unaffiliated teachers share our concerns regarding your policy."

Wilkinson expressed the hope "...for serious consideration of our views...so that communications will soon be established between the board and organized teacher groups."

The board policy of non-communication with organized groups of any kind was adopted at a regular meeting on June 13, 1977.

Following the executive session, the board approved Cameron's request, bringing his yearly salary to $18,000.

Board President Pro Tempore W. E. Breland reported no other action was taken during the executive session. Board President Mrs. Joseph Cex was absent from Monday's meeting.

In a brief executive session, the board studied the application of W. J. Cameron, principal of the Junior High, for a $1,500 annual salary increase based on his obtaining a AAA-certificate from the State Department of Education.

The superintendent reported a large turn out for a recent Waveland Elementary School Parent-Teacher Organization meeting.

"Our new principal (James D. Baldree) is working out well at Waveland Elementary," McCullough told the board members.

producing 24-foot and 31-foot fiberglass Lafitte skiffs.

This week, top priority goes to completion of the newly-modified version of the Easterly 38, according to Allen Lofland, Easterly marketing director.

"Within five years, we should be among the top ten sailboat manufacturers in the United States," Lofland said of his company's prospects for growth.

After opening the new yard at Port Bienville in May with eight employees, Easterly has already increased its work force to 38 and expects at least 60 on the payroll before the end of this year.

John Dane, assistant general manager at Easterly, reported this week the local company expects a $500,000 payroll by January, 1978.

Dane, formerly a production engineer for Halter Marine, said 80 percent of Easterly's work force is composed of Mississippi residents.

Availability of trainable workers in this area is among the advantages considered in Halter's decision to locate the Easterly operation at Port Bienville, according to Lofland.

Location of the Easterly plant at Port Bienville marked establishment of the second Halter yard in Mississippi.

Halter Marine Fabricators, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Halter Marine Services, was the first major expansion of the company's production facilities, located at Moss Point in 1965.

The Moss Point facility, designed to build ships in excess of 400 feet in length, is built on 30 acres of land on the Dog River.

The Easterly plant here is currently situated on a 27-acre plot at Port Bienville, and the company holds an option on another 25 acres.

Brennan said in addition to the favorable labor market here, Easterly also considered tax and insurance advantages as well as availability of space in its decision to locate at Port Bienville.

Easterly is a shipyard on dry land, Brennan pointed out, adding that the company realizes a considerable savings in workmen's compensation insurance premiums as a result.

"The minute you put your workers over water, your insurance premiums are doubled," Brennan said.

Easterly's finished products are trucked to water several hundred yards outside the plant.

"Everything we build here can be hauled by truck," Lofland added.

"Each boat we produce here is really a hand-made product, so we just don't have any unskilled positions...we train everyone who comes in here to meet our special needs," Lofland stated.

"It's unusual in our industry to have a power boat and a sailboat side by side on the production line," Lofland said.

"A standing argument against this kind of production maintains commercial craft standards detract from quality of the pleasure craft," he pointed out.

"But we've found out the pleasure craft production actually adds to the quality of the commercial boats," the company's chief salesman said.

In addition to Brennan who has lately become a resident of Waveland and is well-known in local sailing circles, and Dane who holds "an international reputation in sailing," Lofland said several other employees at the plant are sailing enthusiasts, including himself.

"You don't have to be a sailor to work here, but it sure helps," he concluded.

Day Care...

they will put in much of their time - but they just need an opportunity. Thanks to the United Way, the cities and county through the Department of Public Welfare, they are getting their chance to enjoy retirement and old age. They are learning and participating - it is a give and take situation.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare provides 75 percent of the money for these programs for the elderly, but the community has to show their interest by providing the other 25 percent. Thankfully, the people in Hancock County care about their parents and elders and have provided the funds necessary to keep these programs going. One thing about it - the alternative to getting older is not so great - so we will all join the "Pepsi Generation" and I, for one, hope they still have these services available in case I need them - besides who knows, I may be another Grandma Moses!!

The MEC Education Committee will meet Thursday, Jackson businessman Benton E. Cain will preside at the 10 a.m. meeting at the Coliseum Ramada Inn.

"These are three of our most important committees, and they will be reviewing reports and policy recommendations on a number of issues," said MEC President Howard Lewis of Greenwood.

"These committees are laying the groundwork for our Board meeting, which is one of the Council's most important functions. That Board meeting will be the last opportunity for policy revisions before the 1978 legislative session," he said.

shore.

Areas affected by future regulations will likely include the separation of commercial and recreational fishing, per diem catch limits, establishment of sanctuaries, fishing gear regulations and restriction of fishing locations.

The commission has already prohibited use of gill nets and established a 42-sack limit to the oyster catch which may be aboard a dredging boat at one time.

"We may also see more shortened seasons, especially with oysters if we continue to have only the reefs available now," he added.

Leard noted, however, he feels "private enterprise...could do better than the state or federal government" in oyster management.

Mississippi consumer report

DEBT COLLECTION

A new federal law will prohibit abusive practices by professional independent collection agencies. It becomes effective March 20, 1978.

The Act prohibits communications with consumers: (1) At any unusual or inconvenient place or time (8 a.m. to 9 p.m. is assumed to be a convenient time); (2) When the consumer has an attorney and the attorney's name and address are available; and (3) At work, if there is reason to know that the consumer's employer does not allow such communication.

Except when location information is being sought, it prohibits contacting third parties such as a consumer's employer, except for the consumer's attorney, consumer reporting agencies, the creditor, his attorney and the debt collector's attorney.

When trying to find out a consumer's residence and telephone number of place of employment, a debt collector must identify himself, state that he is confirming or correcting such information and identify his employer only if expressly requested to do so. He may not state that the consumer owes a debt, nor may he communicate by postcard.

A consumer is allowed to stop the debt collector from communicating with him, by mailing a notice to the collector that he wishes communications to stop.

Debt collectors are prohibited from: A. Conduct which is harassing, oppressive or abusive, such as:

1. Using or threatening violence or criminal means to harm an individual.
2. Using obscene, profane or abusive language.

3. Making repeated telephone calls which abuse consumers.

4. Making telephone calls without disclosing one's identity.

B. Making false, deceptive or misleading representations, such as:

1. Misrepresenting that one is affiliated with the United States Government or any State.

2. Misrepresenting that one is an attorney or that communications are from an attorney.

3. Misrepresenting that not paying a debt will result in imprisonment or arrest.

4. Communicating false credit information.

5. Using documents which are falsely represented to be official or government documents.

6. Using false or deceptive means to obtain information about a consumer.

7. Misrepresenting or implying that documents are legal process papers.

C. Using unfair or unconscionable means to collect debts, such as:

1. Soliciting postdated checks in order to threaten prosecution.

2. Depositing a postdated check before the date on the check.

3. Causing charges to be made to the consumer by not revealing the true purpose of the communication (such as in collect long distance telephone calls).

4. Communicating about a debt by means of postcards.

Consumers should be supplied with information about a debt being collected, such as: the amount of the debt, the creditor's name and the consumer's right to obtain verification of the debt. The collector is required to stop his collection efforts until he sends verification of the debt to the consumer.

The peoples business

A $40 BILLION SALUTE

There is serious talk these days in our nation's capital of honoring ailing Senator Hubert Humphrey in a manner previously not imagined.

The conversation centers around potential passage of the Humphrey-Hawkins bill, which would cost the taxpayers some $40 billion more a year.

We will not argue the merits of recognizing Senator Humphrey, who has served as both a member and presiding officer of the Senate. But despite the fact that he is probably in his last term in the august body, no public official should be remembered by a $40 billion government-guaranteed job program.

The goal of the program which Humphrey and California Democratic Representative Augustus Hawkins have devised is a 4 percent unemployment rate. The government would guarantee all willing citizens a job until that goal is achieved.

The cost would be enormous, the additional tax burden would be staggering. By approving such a program, the government could cause spiraling inflation, and the corresponding loss of jobs. The Humphrey-Hawkins bill would probably be counter-productive.

Why don't our elected leaders realize that free enterprise is what builds industry and creates new jobs? Why can't they see that additional government competition with business can only stifle healthy economic growth?

The Congress should certainly be willing to pay tribute to a departing member, but this plan is a bit much.

God's Rose

I stole the idea from a rose,
Only God in Heaven really knows
What lies within its hidden beauty,
And only He knows of its duty.

In deep within its petals rolled,
And hidden there within each fold,
Its perfume holds a real true treasure,
And only God knows its full measure.

The mighty rose holds high its head,
In reverence and duty;
Protected by the thorns its dread,
Unfolds to us its scented beauty.

Today I stood beside the rose,
To drink in all the beauty closed.
Within its petals — each so rare,
And found that God is hidden there.

The Rocky Hill Rambler

255-7550

by 'Gweny'

Hi neighbors! First let me introduce myself. My name is Gweny. I'm coming to ya'll from Rocky Hill. I'm the mother of three boys and I try to go to church every Sunday. Hope someday to meet at least 10 percent of our readers. My hobbies are collecting old recipes, home movies and tropical fish. Now that that's over let's find out what's happening in them there hills.

First, let's take care of the big man.

I spoke to Father Austin on Thursday morning. He informed me that the Gumbo Festival was a success, and that only one year after the ground breaking ceremony the steel for our new parish building is going up. For the benefit of any newcomers to Rocky Hill we are going to have a new multi-purpose building. It will be devised so to permit more space in church for special occasions. I think all of the parishioners of Annunciation will benefit by this. At the cost of $225,000 I know it will be a building of which we can all be proud. Excluding natural disaster it should be completed by this time next year.

Well ya'll, I have to give the bad news with the good. Our Junior High team lost their game Friday to Pearl River Central. The final score was 22-8.

Coach White was pleased with his new Quarterback Robert DeVaughn.

He also said Louis Matranger ran the ball well and scored 6 points. Then halfback Joseph Picard scored the two extra points.

Coach White said he wasn't pleased with the game, but hopefully minds will be ready for next Thursday when they get another chance to take on Pearl River Central.

Good luck to all, see you at the game.

It looks like young freshman Susan Ladner up in Pearl River whose interests are aimed at being a legal secretary, can't stay away from Mama's cooking. She came home for a visit again last weekend. I know her parents were delighted.

Folks it's hard to find news in just 24 hours. That's what the Echo allowed me this time.

Next week I hope to have more.

If any of my readers have any news, please call 255-7550.

See ya'll at the races or church!

MISSISSIPPI WEEKLY WEATHER & CROP REPORT

OCTOBER 11, 1977

WEATHER SUMMARY (National Weather Service) Temperatures were 1 to 3 degrees below normal. Extremes ranged from 95 at Columbia on the 1st to 36 at Oxford on the 4th. Greatest 24-hour rainfall was 1.20 at Oxford on the 1st. Rain fell on 1 to 2 days at most locations. A cold front moved southeast over the state on Saturday bringing widespread rain. Skies cleared Sunday with light rain scattered over the state Monday. Dancy reported 3.66 inches of rain.

CROP SUMMARY. A generally favorable week for fieldwork allowed farmers to harvest soybeans, cotton, rice, hay, and other crops. Farmers also continued to plant winter wheat, oats and ryegrass. Soil moisture supplies were mostly adequate. An average of 5.1 days was suitable for fieldwork compared to 2.8 days last week and 4.4 days for the same week last year. The soybean acreage was 84 percent shedding, the same as last year, and 53 percent mature compared to 43 percent last year and 32 percent for the average. The acreage was 21 percent harvested compared to 16 percent last year and 14 percent for the average. The crop was in fair to good condition. Corn was 71 percent harvested, ahead of last year's 55 percent and the average of 40 percent. Sorghums were 72 percent harvested compared to 81 percent last year and 62 percent for the average. Hay crops were 89 percent harvested compared to 92 percent last year and 88 percent for the average. The peanut harvest was 87 percent completed compared to 74 percent last year and 68 percent for the average. Sweet potatoes were 54 percent harvested, behind last year's 59 percent and the average of 56 percent. Pastures were in good to fair condition. Pecans were in fair condition.

White Cypress by Yvonne Ladner

Linda Ladner has returned to McConnell Air Force Base in Wichita, Kansas, after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burnis Ladner of Necaise Crossing. Linda took her basic training at Lackland Air Force Base and her technical training at Sheppard, Texas. She is a 1976 graduate of Our Lady's Academy in Bay St. Louis.

There will be an appreciation dinner for the workers for the Gumbo Festival, 7:30 p.m., Saturday, at the cafeteria at Annunciation School.

Andy and Peggy Ladner have returned from a vacation to points of interest in the states of Tennessee, Virginia, Washington, New York, and Canada. Peggy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Haas of Kiln and Andy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ladner of White Cypress.

Congratulations and best wishes to all the girls of our community who are in the running for Queen of Homecoming at Hancock North Central for 1978.

Get well wishes are extended to all the sick of the Community, especially Wilton Necaise who had an accident and dislocated his shoulder.

FARMERS MARKET

The Farmers Market that has been operating on Wednesdays and Saturdays will now only be operating on Saturday mornings from 7:30 to 12:00 a.m. These hours will go through the rest of the fall months. The Market will be in the open building at the Fairgrounds.

OVERSEEDING RYEGRASS

Bermuda, dallis and bahia grass pastures will soon be dormant and can be overseeded with rye grass to furnish grazing next spring. The existing forage should be grazed closely or clipped for hay by the middle of October. Then, disk in one direction and broadcast 40 pounds of rye grass per acre. Apply the equivalent of 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre at planting.

Disking will not damage the permanent grass and the nitrogen applied will help the grazing next spring.

No grazing can be expected from the rye grass before January. However, three-fourths of an acre per cow should provide more than adequate grazing from February until late May. You may be able to harvest about one ton of hay per acre next May from the rye grass if it is not grazed closely next May.

STILL TIME TO PLANT

With normal weather conditions, farmers still have time to plant wheat and ryegrass and have grazing by late November. The seeding rate is 90 pounds of wheat and 30 pounds of ryegrass per acre.

Broadcast seed on a well-prepared seedbed and harrow or cultipack following seeding.

Apply mixed fertilizer according to soil test recommendations or apply the equivalent of 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre.

DOVE AND TURKEY FEED

Sportsmen who planted browntop millet spaced over several weeks will want to continue to strip row or disk fields. Planting wheat in the strips exhausted of millet will attract doves. If you maintain these strips until next summer, the mature grain will hold birds for the beginning of next season.

Winter grasses and clover make excellent plantings for turkey. Wheat or ryegrass overseeded by clover three to six weeks later will furnish supplemental food during the winter and spring. These fields will also provide good summer range for turkeys. The adult birds will forage for grain and insects and young poult will eat the insects for much needed protein.

- RELEASED: OCTOBER 12, 1977

SUMMARY

SOYBEANS: Based on conditions as of Oct. 1, soybean production is forecast at 84.7 million bushels, unchanged from last month's forecast, but 18 percent above 1976. The U.S. production is forecast at 1,647 million bushels, 30 percent above 1976.

COTTON: Production of cotton is forecast at 1,530,000 bales, 5.5 percent above last month's forecast, but 33 percent above the 1976 production. The U.S. production is forecast at 13.3 million bales, 1 percent above last month, but 26 percent above 1976.

RICE: Production of rice is forecast at 4,316,000 cwt. This is 5 percent below last month's forecast, and 29 percent below 1976. The U.S. production is forecast at 98.8 million cwt, 1.5 percent below last month, and 16 percent below 1976.

SWEET POTATOES: Sweet potato production is forecast at 810,000 cwt. This is unchanged from previous forecasts and the same as 1976. The U.S. production is forecast at 12.7 million cwt, 8 percent below 1976.

PECANS: Production of pecans is forecast at 14.0 million pounds, 12.5 million pounds above 1976. The U.S. production is forecast at 253.4 million pounds, compared with only 103.1 million pounds in 1976 and 248.3 million pounds in 1975.

FARMER COOPERATIVE HISTORY BY ED BLAKE MS AG AFFAIRS

The word cooperative when used to describe a type of business organization has long been a fuzzy one in the minds of a lot of people but it should not be misunderstood anymore if we look briefly at Mississippi farm history. Mississippi has had farmer cooperatives around as a vital part of her business life for over half a century now, and today the cooperative concept is being proliferated among many groups of people far removed from our farms to do together what they couldn't achieve alone in business circles.

October is co-op month in Mississippi and is a good time for better understanding of the history and potential of this type of business undertaking.

It all started in Mississippi and over much of the nation in the early 1900's and gained strength after the nation's farmers had toiled up to produce for the World War I war effort and found after the Armistice was declared that they had too many farm commodities around and no profitable way to dispose of them.

Worsening their problem was the fact that most of them were in the position of buying their farm production materials such as seed fertilizer at retail prices and then selling their production wholesale. The result was disastrous.

County agricultural agents got into the act, or were pressed into service, to help solve the dilemma. Cooperation became the theme among farmers and their helpers as they decided to pool their commodities for shipment to urban areas for more profitable sale. It was not economically feasible for individual farmers to ship their commodities in small lots so out of the cooperative concept came pooled shipments of livestock and crops.

The first cooperative shipment of mixed livestock from Mississippi was made in 1912 from Mathiston in Webster county by County Agent C.M. Holland. A few years later Yazoo county's agricultural agent W.R. Ritch introduced this state's first rail shipment of hogs for members of his county 4-H Pork Pig Club. Agent Ritch successfully sold the hogs in St. Louis and followed up by extending the courtesy to the youngsters' parents with equal success.

The profitability of the system was welcome news on the farm front and in Lafayette county Agent L.A. Olson organized 349 farmers to pool 18 rail carloads of fat hogs to St. Louis. From then on cooperative marketing was an economic way of life for Mississippi agriculture.

Mississippi Extension leaders who had introduced the cooperative system were at the head of the class and as early as September 1912, opened the first cooperative creamery at Starkville's A & M College.

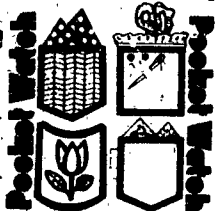

Yet, as always, change was not without its consequences. Many merchants over the nation were particularly upset as farmers extended the cooperative principle to their purchases of farm supplies. History records that as 21 carloads of Lafayette county, Mississippi, corn departed for Texas one carload of Texans left for Washington to protest.

Nevertheless, today both state and federal laws recognize the rights of citizens to form an association of cooperative under prescribed regulations to conduct group purchasing and marketing for the economic benefit of the members.

As a result Mississippians today belong to cooperative associations in the fields of rural electricity; farm supplies; cotton and grain marketing; farm credit; animal breeding; poultry production; processing and marketing; the production of fertilizer and feed; and many more.

Today ... FOOD SHOPPING

Why do some store designers place the bakery department first? Two reasons are recognized. One is that supermarket bakery departments carry several brands of baked goods to allow their customers a complete selection. Because the department is stocked and serviced by driver-salesmen from the various companies represented, it's important to have it located conveniently near the door. Then aisles will not be blocked by the large hampers in which the fresh baked goods are carried into the store and the unsold packages are taken out.

The second reason is a matter of psychology. The bakery department is high in impulse purchases, and most shoppers are most impulsive when they've just entered the store - when the cart is nearly empty and the purse is nearly full. Along toward the end of the shopping circle - when the cart is nearly full and small doubts arise as to whether the food money will cover the total bill - then it's easy to resist the temptation or the impulse to buy one more thing.

Another special feature of the bakery department is that one impulse purchase leads to another. For example, a package of hamburger buns may naturally lead to the purchase of ground beef or hamburger patties. Package of hotdog buns means that hotdogs are a possibility.

into the cart when the shopper get to the meat department, the hotdogs, cold cuts, sausage and bacon are usually displayed first. Again, this is because these are high impulse items and they need to be sold before the more expensive main-dish items have been placed in the cart and added, mentally, to the expected total at check-out time.

Speaking of check-outs at the supermarket, contrary to the belief held by many customers, mistakes at the check-out counter do not average out even. Actually, there is a definite tendency toward undercharging the customer. Why? Because when the customer is watching, the checker tends to accept the lower of two possible interpretations when price figures are not clear...and if there is an overcharge, the customer is more likely to call attention to it than in the case of an undercharge. Whether you believe it or not - the customer may not always be right, but she usually gets the benefit of the doubt - at least in the supermarket.

Planting wheat in the exhausted soil of millet will do. If you maintain strips until next summer, the mature grain will do for the beginning of season.

Grasses and clover are excellent plantings for wheat or rye. These are later will furnish food for the birds and insects during the spring. These will also provide good range for turkeys. It birds will forage for and insects and young birds will eat the insects for protein.

Hawks keep clean slate

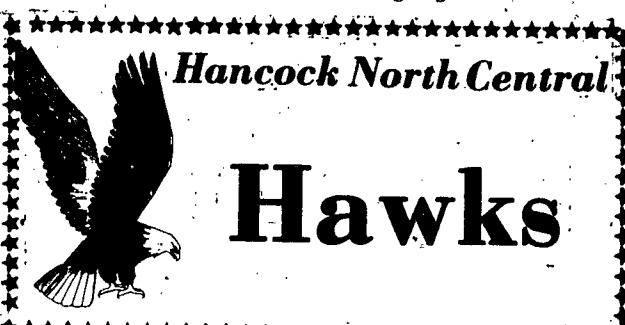

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The Hawks of Hancock North Central continued their winning ways Friday night with a 21-0 victory over Pearl River Central.

The work horse for the Hawks on offense was Greg Ladner carrying 12 times for 147 yards.

The Hawks scored in the first quarter with defensive end Gene Breazeale picking up a Blue Devil fumble and rambling 46 yards for a score. Rocky Cuevas point after try was wide.

The Hawks scored in the third quarter with halfback Greg Ladner going in from the 26. The score was a climax of the second half kickoff drive by the Hawks for 60 yards. The Hawks added two for the drive topped off with Dentist conversion with Vincent Nelson going over tackle for a Adams going over left end on a keeper. At the end of the third quarter the Hawks led 14-0.

Nelson was also a standout on defense when he intercepted a Blue Devil pass in his own end zone and hustled it out to the 50 to end Pearl River Central's only threat of the game. The ball was tipped by the Hawk's Vincent Adams into Nelson's hands.

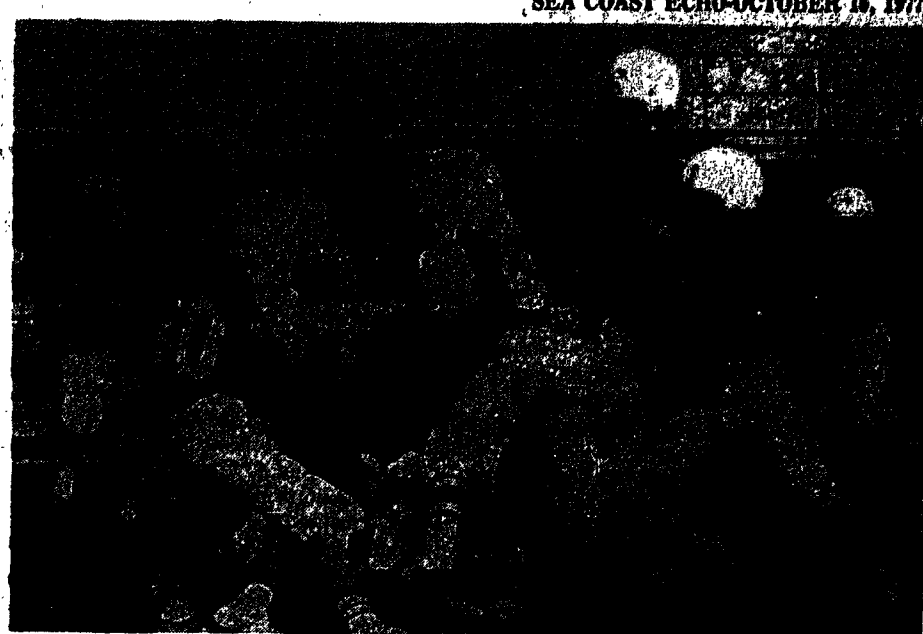

Coach Irvin Favre said that this game was one when the offense and defense got together like they did in the Bay High game.

"The offense took the pressure off the defense in this game."

"It was just a team effort with everyone doing a very good job," Favre said.

The Hawks tied a school record for the most wins in a season last night and will be out to break that record in a homecoming tilt against Pine, La. next Friday night.

WHOOOF went respective breaths in this pile of players as Bay Catholic Elementary School's 'Little Team' Crusaders met head-on with Westminster squad trying to make yards. Westminster lost outing by score of 13-0. Although ball ownership is in doubt for identification, hand of possessor can be seen firmly clutching the pigskin in middle of huddle. 'Crusader' Big Team also won outing that week. They played Charles B. Murphy of Pearlington and emerged 27-7 victors. (Staff photo - Jake Jacob)

Pirates sink Eagles 40-7

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The Pass Christian Pirates ran and passed at will against the St. John Eagles Friday night in Pirate stadium.

The Pirates scored midway in the first quarter when Malcom Dedeaux went over from the ten. The score was set up on a fumble recovery by Dwight Dedeaux on the Eagle 18.

Malcom Dedeaux moved in put points on the score board with only 13 seconds used, on the second half kickoff Robert Bailey returned it for an 83 yard TD making the score 34-0.

Coach Bob Rogers cleared the bench in the second half. He probably would have used Jimmy Nations, Pat Frisby, Kenneth Pruitt, Rusty Blackwell and Wade Rogers, the team managers if he had picked up Pirate fumble by John Papania that covered 89 yards for the Eagles only score, they added the extra point. The TD was the last score of the game with 5:23 left in the fourth quarter giving the Pirates a 40-7 lead.

Defense by the Pirates gave the Eagle offense trouble all night, in the third quarter Charles Stewart recovered a fumble, and early in the fourth quarter Kenneth Cuevas recovered an Eagle fumble. The Pirates had another score midway in the fourth quarter called back for holding after Loni Jenkins recovered a fumble on the Eagle 17.

The rugged Pirate defense did not allow the Eagle offense past the Pirate 40 for the whole game, the only time was on the fumble recovery that run for a TD.

The Pirates now 5-1 host East Central next week in a homecoming tilt. St. John, 0-7, host strong d'Herville.

for the score on two carries. Kevin Gallagher kicked the extra point with Pat Barnes holding, giving the Pirates a 7-0 lead.

The Pirates kicked off to the Eagles, and on their second play from scrimmage, Gene Lang intercepted an Eagle pass from quarterback Ray Parker giving the Pirates the ball on the Eagles 15. The Pirates two plays to score again with quarterback Virgil Swanier scoring on a 13 yard keeper. With 5:18 left in the first quarter the Pirates led 14-0 after another conversion by Gallagher with Barnes holding.

The Pirates next score was at 9:45 left in the second period when Malcom Dedeaux returned a punt from his own 34 for a 66 yard score. The point after was good with Pass Christian leading St. John 21-0.

The Eagle offense was bottled up all night by the stingy Pirate defense. The Eagles were only able to muster 68 yards rushing and three yards passing. The Pirates picked up 150 yards on the ground and 74 by the air.

The Pirates scored their fourth TD with 2:15 left in the second quarter when Robert Bailey took a punt from St. John's 41 to their two. On the first play Gene Lang took a hand off from Virgil Swanier for another score. Gallagher added his fourth extra point of the night with Barnes holding. The Pirates went to the locker room for halftime entertainment leading the Eagles 28-0.

Statistics favor Rocks

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws were defeated by the St. Martin Yellow Jackets, 28-7, at North Biloxi, Friday night.

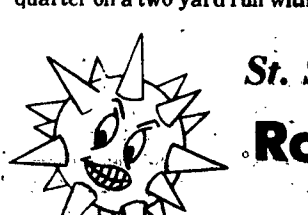

The Rocks out-played the Jackets but miscues cost Stanislaus the game. The Rocks had 14 first downs to the Jackets eight. In combined yardage the Rocks had 219 to 185. The statistic that counted however, was the Yellow Jackets' score of 28-7.

A fine night was had by St. Stanislaus back Bill Kergosien who racked up 139 yards on the ground. The Rocks had a pass interception by Bryant Gilbert against them in the end zone that was run the length of the field for a score.

Kergosien put the only points on the score board for the Rocks in the second quarter on a two yard run with touchdown after a 20 yard run by Tony Touchet was fumbled in the end zone with Lepoma recovering.

St. Stanislaus Rock a Chaws

Charles Armata adding the extra point.

Scoring by St. Martin was in the first quarter when Kerry Fountain gathered in a 30 yard pass from Donnie Creel and Doug Brown added the extra point.

In the second quarter Bryant Gilbert raced the length of the field with a Rock pass interception to give the Jackets their second score. The second quarter ended with the Jackets in the lead 14-7.

The third quarter was scoreless with the Jackets adding two TD's in the fourth stanza. Offensive lineman Russell Leonoma scored a St. Martin's final score was when Robert Payton scooted 17 yards in the end zone with Doug Brown adding his fourth extra point of the game.

The Rock-A-Chaws 2-3-1 will travel over to Bay High Tiger Field next week for the Bay St. Louis Championship. The Bay Tigers are 1-6 for the season.

Bulldogs chase Tigers 30-6

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Coach Billy Rhodes said, Saturday morning that his Tigers played a good game in their defeat at the hands of Vanceave's Bulldogs. Coach Rhodes said that the Bulldogs now 6-1 for the season was one of the best teams his Tigers have faced this season.

Bay High on Friday night will play host to the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws for the Bay St. Louis Championship. The Tigers for the season are 1-6 and Stanislaus is 2-3-1, making both teams hungry for victory.

The Tigers highlight of the game was when quarterback Dwayne LaFontaine carried the ball in from the one yard line in the fourth quarter for the Tigers' lone score. The try for extra point was not good. The Bulldogs had a safety in the first quarter and fourth quarter soaking the Tigers in their end zone. The Vanceave defense was stingy on allowing the Tigers only 23 yards rushing and 40 yards passing. The Bulldogs had 279 yards rushing and 123 yards passing.

The Bulldogs scored twice in the first quarter with Tom Warren going over from the two and Bubba Etherton passing to Larry Jackson for 20 yards for another score. Vanceave also added a safety.

Vanceave scored in the second quarter on a two yard pass from Etherton to Pete Batsch who then ran with another 12 yard scoring pass in the fourth quarter. The Bulldogs then added another two points with a safety in the final stanza.

The Tigers Dwayne LaFontaine had a fine night kicking as he punted six times for a 36 yard average. Safety Tim Delcuze recovered a Bulldog fumble in the first quarter and linebacker Hewitt Pearson recovered another in the fourth quarter.

Coach Rhodes closed in saying that the Bulldogs were a very quick team, the quickest they have played this season.

posponed upon request of the defense attorney until Oct. 12.

In the course of the Oct. 12 hearing, Ronnie Starnes of Food Center asked for a further postponement, but was denied by the judge.

Starnes maintains with more time he might have been able to assemble evidence based on cash register tapes from the day of the alleged offenses.

"Another postponement would not have helped their case at all," Judge Benvenuti stated.

Other managers feel they were not properly notified when to be in court following the first postponement.

"I wasn't told until 3:30 p.m. that afternoon (Oct. 12) that I should be in court that night," complained Ronnie Slocum of the A&P on US-90 at Dunbar.

But Chief Douglas Williams of Bay St. Louis police department stoutly maintains that he notified all store managers involved, by direction of Judge Benvenuti, of the first postponement, and at that time informed the managers the case would be heard the following week.

Bay High hosts Jayvee jamboree

The first of what will hopefully be the annual Bay High School Junior Varsity Jamboree was held Monday with schools from Bay High, St. Stanislaus, Pass Christian and D'Iberville competing.

Each team played two 10-minute quarters in the contest. The first game of the night pitted Bay High against Pass Christian. Bay High took an 8-0 win. In the second match of the night the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws took a 6-0 win over D'Iberville. The third game of the night saw Bay High and St. Stanislaus battle to a 0-0 tie. Stanislaus also tied D'Iberville 0-0 and D'Iberville and Pass Christian finished a scoreless quarter. In the final match, D'Iberville edged Bay High 6-0.

Billy Rhodes, coordinator of the jamboree, called the contest a success, saying, "This is the first jamboree of its kind at Bay High since I've been here and I think it went very well. I hope we can make it an annual event."

St. Clare takes conference title

The St. Clare Warriors claimed their second consecutive conference championship with a 7-6 win over St. James recently. The Warriors closed out an undefeated, untied season with the win.

Things started out on a sour note for the Warriors with coach John Moss in the hospital and unable to attend the championship game.

From there, things went down hill for the St. Clare team. The team appeared at the wrong stadium, the officials declared the game ball illegal and once the game began the Warriors received a long list of costly penalties. St. James scored the first points of the day and for the first time of the year the Warriors found themselves behind, trailing 6-0.

Finally quarterback Dean DiSalvo settled his team down and got the St. Clare's team untracked. The Warriors moved 65 yards for their touchdown with DiSalvo going the final 12 yards. Power running of Fred Peterman and John Moss was the major factor in the St. Clare drive. DiSalvo went around the left end for the PAT and the missed extra point by St. James became very important as the Warriors took a 7-6 lead.

The St. Clare defense was led by Peterman, Armond Serpas and Vincent Schott who recovered a fumble in the St. Clare win.

Gulfview to play for championship

Gulfview Elementary will meet Waveland Elementary Tuesday for the Hancock Elementary Conference title. Donald Carver put the Bulldogs in the playoffs as he powered the team to a 26-6 win over Hancock North Central.

Carver scored five touchdowns for the Gulfview team only to have two called back in the win.

Carver's first score came on a 10 yd. run around the left side. Carver's touchdown run was set up by a 22 yard run by Lafayette Greer. A key block by Mark Santalla sprung Carver on the touchdown run.

The second score of the day was set up when Danny Auxilien recovered a Hancock fumble on the ensuing kickoff.

Carver again did the honors from 10 yards out to give the Bulldogs a 12-0 halftime lead.

In the second score of the day was set up when Danny Auxilien recovered a Hancock fumble on the ensuing kickoff.

Carver again did the honors from 10 yards out to give the Bulldogs a 12-0 halftime lead.

In the second half Carver scored three touchdowns but only one was good as the Gulfview team took a commanding 20-0 lead after Jay Lee made the conversion after Carver's run.

Lonnie Cuevas scored the only HNC touchdown of the day on a two yard plunge that ended the game. The seventh and eighth grade team from Gulfview settled for only a tie in its contest with Hancock. The two teams battled to a 16-16 tie.

Gulfview struck first blood when Donald Wayne Graham raced sixty yards on the first play from scrimmage. Graham also scored the PAT to put Gulfview in front 8-0.

Hancock drove down to the Gulfview five yard line on the next possession before the Gulfview defense stiffened and held the Hawks scoreless. The Bulldogs took over and moved the ball back to midfield before the Hawks recovered a fumble.

Hancock then got its first touchdown of the day on a 45 yard pass to the tight end. Hancock also hit on the PAT and the score was knotted at 8-8 at the end of the first half.

Jack Singleton took the ball in for the second Gulfview touchdown of the day to cap a 60 yard drive that started when Gulfview took the opening kickoff of the second half. John Moran added the PAT to put Gulfview on top 16-8.

Hancock again scored on a pass to the tight end good for 60 yards in the fourth quarter to again knot the score at the final 16-16.

Overtime

With this final offering in Overtime I bid a fond farewell to the Sea Coast Echo and the Bay-Waveland area.

I have been called to another newspaper and must move on. My departure is a moment of reminiscence of the past three months of service. Although my stay at the Echo was a short one it has been most pleasant. The friends I have made here will be hard to leave behind.

There are several both around town and in the office that I would like to thank for their assistance in my efforts. Although they have all been most helpful, Ellis Cuevas and Jake (His Snakeship) Jacob have been the most instrumental.

To Ellis, I give thanks for his help in developing my meager advertising skills. Especially his countless explanations on how to prepare a double-truck for printing. How many bosses would explain how to tape two pages together four times?

To his obnoxious-chip, I humbly offer thanks for my editorial education. Although not a sports writer at heart, Jake has provided me with many, if not good, at least unusual layout writing suggestions. I'm sure, that with enough time, I would have learned to like him. To the others on the Echo staff that have guided me on my biweekly path, I say thanks. You've all been terrific.

To the people of the Bay-Waveland area, especially the coaches that have taken the time to answer all my questions, I wish it could have lasted longer. But, duty calls. It's been fun. So long.

Gulf Coast DAR opens year

By MRS. JAMES O. COKER

Publicity Chairman
Gulf Coast Chapter
Daughters of the American Revolution held their first meeting of the season on Wednesday, Oct. 12, in the home of Mrs. Lois Williamson of Gulfport.

The Regent, Mrs. Fred
Sinquefeld, presented the new Yearbook to all members.

Mrs. Nance Pile read the President General's message, reminding us that no man can suffer too much in defence of his Constitution and his Country.

The Vice Regent, Mrs.
James Coker, read the National Defense message on the Federally Funded Revolution - International Women's Year.

Bulldozers given for two deceased daughters. Mrs.
Coker spoke of Mrs. Rose
Gibbs, and Mrs. Nolan
Carries spoke of Mrs. Mary

Davis.

The Chapter has been invited to a tea on Oct. 25 at Routhland in Natchez, honoring Mississippi's own
First Vice President, Mrs.
Richard Shelby, Vice President General, Mrs. Max
Pharr, and State Regent, Mrs.
Tate Higgen.

Program Chairman, Mrs.
Robert Roy, introduced our

speaker, Mrs. Dye. Her subject was Thomas Jefferson, lawyer, statesman, planter, architect, scientist, author, inventor, and educator, a man who has given so much more than most in the history of our Country.

Hostesses for the delightful refreshments were Mrs. Lois
Williamson and Mrs. Robert Bird.

Homecoming set for Miss State

Alumni, patrons, and friends of Mississippi State University, congressmen, legislators and state officials,
high school and junior college students, have marked Oct. 22 on their calendar.

The weekend's activities will get under way Friday
(Oct. 21) afternoon with the 2:45 p.m. dedication of MSU's new $1 million Physical Fitness Complex, located just north of Dudy Noble Field.
